Extreme Noise Terror: s/t (LP) AG107

Among the kings of the late '80s UK hardcore scene, EXTREME NOISE TERROR, indisputably deserve their name to be written in big black capitol letters. After speeding up, together with Napalm Death, Doom, Hellbastard and the likes, what Discharge created back in the early Eighties and inspiring a whole generation of crust bands, EXTREME NOISE TERROR are back in 2015 with a new full length recorded last year. It's hard to believe this new masterpiece doesn't come from the same 1991 sessions as this is totally Phonophobia-core. This new self titled record sounds exactly as the old E.N.T. tunes we all fell in love with, so what you have to expect is the usual overdose of throat-cutting double vocals, thrashy heavy rotten sounding guitar riffs, helicopter-ish bass and turbo aggressive fast beats. For those who still don't believe it, I'm reporting what Dean Jones wrote us introducing the record: "The new album is back to total old school ENT (Earslaughter, Holocaust, Phonophobia) No Metal, No Blasts. Total pure ripping, ultra fast H/C Punk the way it originally was". And this is what their new singer Ben wants to state about his feelings towards the record: "I was a big fan of ENT as a teen, long before I joined, specifically of A Holocaust In Your Head and Phonophobia. If I was going to compare this new album to anything the band's done before I'd say it sits nicely with those two. Catchy as fuck aggressive ultra hardcore punk riffs, fast frantic drumming and mental vocals; I don't think Dean's ever sounded as insane as he does on this one! It's raw as fuck too, no click tracks or fixing-in-the-mix type shit, instead the drums, bass and guitars were done live with the leads added after and me and Dean sharing a mic going through a 76 year old analogue valve amp. We're all hugely proud of this album, its a proper call to arms and a brutal statement that the band's music and message is every bit as relevant today as when it was formed 30 years ago". This record is totally in memory of their beloved singer Phil Vane who sadly passed away in 2011. Rest In Peace Phil and long live EXTREME NOISE TERROR!

Ruined Families: Education (LP) ADAGIO 830 #141

Formed in 2010, Ruined Families is a hardcore punk band based in Athens, Greece. Following two acclaimed LPs and a 7", their new release is called "Education" and features 10 songs spanning just over 17 minutes. Drawing elements from their previous work, 'Education' touches on 90s screamo, fast hardcore and post-punk. Unavoidably marked by the lasting turbulence of the Greek condition, Ruined Families attempt to make the most out of a precarious present by putting frustration into words that speak the mind of contemporary youth. Likely to appeal to fans of: Union of Uranus, Reversal of Man, Sonic Youth.

Price: 11.00 €

Sarabante: Poisonous Legacy (LP) LORD221

Sarabante is a Crust/Hard Core Punk band from Athens, Greece formed in late 2006. During the summer of 2011, they released their first album "Remnants". The LP was released by Sara Records, the band's own label, followed by a limited edition CD by Southern Lord Records. Ensuing was an Eastern European tour and numerous local live shows, while releasing in spring of 2013 "Έρμια Των Καίρων/Under The Shadows", a 7" EP via Man in Decline Records. Heavily influenced by the oppression and trying to withstand the ongoing crisis in their home country Greece, forged in times of extreme austerity, blackened even more their focus in composing the new material, which they recorded in 2014. Their new stuff is darker, filthier and more sincere and destructive than the first.

Price: 12.00 €

Strength Approach: With Or Without You (LP) DRA 061

There are 100 in Red 100 in Orange 300 in Black. This new record will be a new chapter in the S.A. history and definitely harder than their previous stuff. If you dig real Hard Core in the veins of Sick Of It All, Madball and the godfathers of HC, Agnostic Front.

Price: 9.00 euro

Strength Approach: Over The Edge (LP) DYW 006

Year 2016 marks the 20th anniversary for Strength Approach, and to give you a reminder of what they've been doing around the world for the last two decades, in collaboration with Fastbreak Records and DYW Inc., the band went back into the Hell Smell Studios in Roma, once again with producer Brian "Mitts" Daniels (Madball), to bring you "Over The Edge", a brand new LP packed with nothing but Hard Core bangers.

From title track "Over The Edge" to their "Farewell" song, the band brings you the product of 20 years living and breathing Hard Core. The result is a straight-up Hard Core record, which also features friends Martijn Van Den Heuvel (No Turning Back) and Mad Joe (Wisdom In Chains).

"Over The Edge" is the living proof that the price they paid is nothing compared to what they've gained.

Limited to 300 copies on orange vinyl with digital download code.

Price: 10.50 €

Ψύχωση: s/t (LP) SCARECROW #31

Ψύχωση were formed in 1993 and played excellent Crust/Punk following the footsteps of "Chaotic End" and "Forgotten Prophecy". During 1996 and 1997, eight tracks were recorded for their first album. After 19 years this long lost gem is finally released on vinyl.
